Annotation: In this article, innovative methods of teaching English effectively and It is also one of the modern educational technologies used in language and its learning a few are highlighted.

Key words: New technologies, interactive methods, national directions.

By the end of the twentieth century, English is a language of world importance status was finally strengthened. Knowledge of foreign languages today is becoming one of the integral parts of professional education. In various fields since specialists have a high rate of cooperation with foreign partners, they have a high demand for language learning. Modern foreign languages are becoming an important component of professional education in society. Such People acquire knowledge first at school, college, lyceum, and then at institutions the main one that helps to learn a foreign language in courses or independently they learn by familiarizing themselves with data sets.

Language is the main means of communication, without which the existence and development of human society hard to imagine. In our world today in social relations communication media (information technologies) requires improving students' communicative skills, they are different in the process of interaction with other participants of the dialogue exchange ideas in situations, use language and speech norms correctly is enough. In such conditions, the main purpose of foreign language is communicative ability forming, that is, carrying out interpersonal and intercultural communication in a foreign language increase is required. By the end of the twentieth century, English is a language of world importance status was finally strengthened. Studying it in most schools around the world became mandatory and the teaching methodology developed by leaps and bounds started The reason for the emergence of the first method of independent English language learning Not everyone has the opportunity to attend the courses. Later, Many authors have developed an effective English language learning program on their own tried to create, but we will focus on 1 of the most popular.

Schechter's method: This method of learning English is a classical model "from theory to practice". Rather than based on the opposite, more natural system of perception. This is how our mother tongue is very similar to our learning. The author teaches young children how to speak gives an example - after all, no one builds them sentences, situations and parts of speech does not explain the rules. In the same way Igor Yuryevich Shekhter English offers to learn. The essence of the modern way of learning English is that from the first lesson, students are given a certain task, for example study the profession of the interlocutor. In addition, all students play what are debatable "etudes", where they act in different roles and they try to solve the problem. The level of language proficiency was about the same since communication takes place between people, between teacher and student the fear of using foreign speech that appears in communication disappears. This technique of the English language consists of three stages: the first is lexical units, words and phrases are given, and only then the second and third the use of grammatical and syntactic structures is corrected at the stage. The system itself has repeatedly confirmed its effectiveness, and currently educational psychologists is one of the most successful in terms of.

In conclusion, it should be said that modern language teaching is more cultural is aimed at the formation of a person, it involves self-analysis and new knowledge having systematization skills. Innovative methods throughout the system is an integral part of modernization. For sure, teachers are the most get acquainted with advanced approaches and later combine them and their own it is possible to achieve significant growth in the education system by using it. Many organizations use multimedia capabilities to send and receive information is moving to a new level using From computers and other devices use determines the success of the entire educational process. Speech skills in trainings during the educational process sufficient attention should be paid to the formation and development of social flexibility need In addition, the success of each lesson in education has many aspects it depends on the correct organization of training. The lesson belongs to the teacher and the student should be based on creative cooperation. Only then students can think independently they receive, their will is trained.

8 modern experiences useful in learning English:

1. Talk to yourself in English:

Lack of practice in a foreign language is one of the most important factors that hinder learning it. This problem can be solved by talking to oneself in English all the time and about everything. We don't even need a partner, just don't leave. For example, when you go to work in the morning, you repeat to yourself in English: "Now I wear trousers and a shirt, I put on shoes, I close the door, I take a taxi" and so on. Practice thinking in English the same way you think in your native language. If you don't know or can't think of a word, use translator programs or Google Assistant. In this way, you will learn to express your thoughts correctly, you will learn new expressions and you will feel free in future communication with a real interlocutor.

2. Blog, Instagram, Twitter in English

Today, most Internet users have their own blogs, Instagram, Facebook, Twitter pages and groups. This also contributes to language learning. For example, you can maintain 2 different pages at the same time: in Uzbek and in English. It's not really important to publish long posts, the main thing is to do it regularly, for example once a day. Through this, you will learn to write words correctly, express thoughts "on paper" and communicate with observers. In addition, a foreign language channel can attract more users and bring you popularity.

3. Use a virtual assistant service!

Another way to start speaking English is to use the services of virtual assistants: Google Assistant, Siri, Amazon Alexa and Google Cortana. Not only will they provide you with the information you need, but they will also be able to engage in dialogue. You will regularly use them to communicate in English, ask questions and try to understand the answers. The main advantage is that you will learn to speak correctly in pronunciation.

4. Keep a diary!

Keeping a diary is an effective way to learn a foreign language. Buy a beautiful notepad and write down your dreams, thoughts, and tasks in English every day. Whether it's 5 simple sentences or full of grammatical errors, you'll increase your growth rate. Do not be afraid to make mistakes, look at the diary as a friend who understands you even with your shortcomings, and try to express the flow of your thoughts without stopping. Your goal is to learn to write in English.

5. Listen to an audio book in English!

Audiobooks are a favorite friend of book lovers (yes, there are those who don't like to read). It is impossible not to acknowledge their help in learning a foreign language. An audio book helps a lot to listen and understand a foreign language, to understand the meaning of unfamiliar words and to form a speech.

Choose an audiobook based on your level of knowledge. For starters, Huckleberry Finn or Oliver Twist are suitable. Intermediate learners can listen to works such as "The Secret Garden" by Frances Eliza Burnett or "Three Men in a Boat" by Jerome K. Jerome.

6. Learn a language through games

You can even continue learning English during a short break or leisure time. With Wikium or Learnenglishkids mini games you can improve your memory, quick response and focus. Choose the English translation of the site and complete the tasks. Solving puzzles will require you to quickly learn English words and terms, and in return you will be able to play your favorite computer game in English. This method helps to relax and learn at the same time.

7. Watch TV series and movies in English with subtitles

Another effective way to learn the language is to watch TV series in English with subtitles. It helps to understand a foreign language by listening, to learn the spelling and correct pronunciation of new words.

8. Sing along with your favorite singer

Songs are a great language learning tool. You can memorize words, understand content and improve pronunciation by singing along with your favorite singer or band.

You can also use Shazam. Not only does it search for songs, it also provides you with the lyrics and allows you to sing along with the artist.

Summary: The basis of language learning is systematic. Change your habits the way we teach you and you'll soon see the results. Your vocabulary, pronunciation and listening comprehension skills are guaranteed to improve. In addition, these recommendations do not require a lot of time and effort.
