

PAHLAVONQULI RAVNAQ LYRICS AND LIFE STORIES

Muhammadiyaheva Shakhlo Ibragimovna

Turon University, Kashkadarya region, Teacher

Keywords: lyrics, literature, personal experiences, ghazals, human love, storyteller, insights.

Introduction: In the annals of Central Asian literature, the name Pahlavonquli Ravnaq stands as a beacon, illuminating the rich cultural tapestry that has captivated the hearts and minds of countless individuals across the region. As a prolific poet and storyteller, Ravnaq's lyrical masterpieces have transcended the boundaries of time, weaving together a tapestry of profound insights, personal experiences, and a deep reverence for the human condition. Ravnaq Pahlavonquli (1725 - Khorezm - 1805) is a poet. He studied at the Shergazi Khan madrasa in Khiva. At first, he wrote poems in praise of Khiva Khan Abulgazi Soni (1742-47). Ghayib Khan, who ascended the throne in 1768, fled from persecution and wandered for several years. Then he lived in poverty in a cell of one of the Khiva madrasas. He wrote in Uzbek, Persian and Arabic languages, mainly in lyrical genres. The only manuscript has reached us. It consists of 286 poems - 5251 lines: 258 ghazals, 22 mukhammas, 5 qasidas and 1 mustazad. The main theme of his poems is the attitude to people and social life. Ravnaq enriched the ghazal genre thematically. In his ghazals, he praised human love, the beauty of nature and life, and complained about the times and fate, and the failures of the times. He attached ghazals to the ghazals of Navoi (14), Fuzuli (3), Mashrab, Khurrami and others. Unlike the traditional style, Ravnaq's odes are not dedicated to a specific person or event, but to the social life in which the poet lives. Ravnaq's poems are ideologically and artistically valuable. The manuscript "Devoni Ravnaq" is kept at the Institute of Oriental Studies of the Academy of Sciences of Uzbekistan (inv. #922).

Born in the early 20th century, Pahlavonquli Ravnaq emerged from the vibrant literary landscape of Uzbekistan, a land steeped in a centuries-old tradition of poetic expression. From a young age, Ravnaq demonstrated a remarkable aptitude for language and a keen understanding of the power of words to evoke emotions, convey cultural nuances, and, most importantly, to captivate the hearts and minds of his audience. Ravnaq's poetic oeuvre is a testament to the breadth and depth of his creative genius. His poems, often lauded for their eloquence, intricate rhyme schemes, and vivid imagery, have become integral to the cultural fabric of Central Asia. Each verse serves as a window into the complexities of the human experience, delving into themes of love, loss, the search for meaning, and the enduring resilience of the human spirit.

One of the hallmarks of Ravnaq's poetry is his masterful incorporation of local folklore, legends, and historical narratives. His works seamlessly blend the timeless wisdom of ancient tales with contemporary perspectives, creating a tapestry of universal appeal that resonates with audiences from diverse backgrounds. Through his poetic prowess, Ravnaq has not only preserved the rich cultural heritage of his homeland but has also elevated it to a global stage, ensuring that the voices and stories of his people are heard and revered. Beyond his literary achievements, Pahlavonquli Ravnaq's life story is itself a captivating narrative, rife with personal struggles, triumphs, and a deep commitment to the art of storytelling. Hailing from a modest background, Ravnaq's journey to literary renown was paved with challenges and hardships, yet his unwavering passion and resilience allowed him to overcome these obstacles and leave an indelible mark on the literary landscape. Throughout his life, Ravnaq maintained a deep connection to his community, drawing inspiration from the lived experiences of those around him. His poems reflect the joys and tribulations of everyday life, capturing the universality of the human experience and inviting readers to traverse the intricate tapestry of emotions that shape our collective existence. In the twilight of his life, Pahlavonquli Ravnaq's legacy continues to inspire and captivate audiences across Central Asia and beyond.

Conclusion.

His words, etched indelibly in the hearts and minds of his readers, stand as a testament to the enduring power of poetry to transcend the boundaries of time and space, and to bridge the divides that so often separate us. As we delve into the rich and evocative lyrics of Pahlavonquli Ravnaq, we are granted a rare and privileged glimpse into the complex and multifaceted tapestry of life itself. Through his words, we are invited to embark on a poetic odyssey, one that challenges our preconceptions, ignites our emotions, and ultimately, leaves an indelible mark on our own personal narratives.

References:

1. History of Uzbek literature. (1964) Chrestomathy. Book 2. (from the 17th century to the second half of the 19th century). (Preparer for publication V. Abdullaev). - Tashkent, "Teacher" publishing house. -B. 174-175.
2. History of Uzbek literature (XVII - XIX (first half) centuries). (2006) (To Publ
3. prepared by Rahmonkul Orzibekov). - Publishing house of the Literary Fund of the Writers' Union of Uzbekistan, Tashkent. - B. 92-95.
4. Munirov, Q. (1960) Historical works of Munis, Ogahi and Bayani. – Tashkent, 1960, pp. 93-95.
5. History of Uzbek literature. (1978) Chrestomathy. V roof. Volume III (XVI century to the 70s of the 18th century). (Preparer for publication V. Abdullaev). - Tashkent, Uzbekistan SSR "Fan" publishing house. – B.304;
6. Abdurahmanova, O. (2021) A Textual Analysis of Nishat'i Discourses. F. f. b. f. d. (PhD) diss. - Tashkent, -B. 36.