INTRODUCTION

Historical-philosophical law, change of time, environment, society and about the fact that regardless of a person's intellectual development, a person always follows the same path based on an unchanging principle. No matter how much time changes, it is the greatest, the brightest people with good qualities and at the same time people full of the most unpleasant qualities also requires that he live. Based on this principle, "History is great." teacher" (1.).

Main part

"Works of the World" by O'tkir Hashimov, written almost forty years ago The story can be cited as proof of this statement. To his literary genre according to, a collection of short life stories, in most cases to a collection of essays despite the comparison, this "epic" [2] includes not only the author's mother opinions and inner experiences about the time, its surroundings dedicated to the internal and external aspects of people.

The image of "Mother" in the story, the author describes only past events an attempt to implement the image of a limited or ideal mother in the image of one's own mother to emphasize that the student has read the work in its entirety to gain an understanding indicates that he did not get it. We can clearly see that the author's mother fully describes the image of an oriental woman with her actions, views, and opinions.

The procedures of the time, atheistic propaganda to all aspects of society despite being aimed at, maintaining high qualities such as humanity, honesty and applying it in the upbringing of their children is one of the virtues of an oriental woman. As an example, in the short story "Two legends", the author's mother's early childhood he remembers that he worked as a street sweeper. Then, as time passed, to his brother's mother special attention should be paid to his words that he will not do this. A person is honest working hard and living with forehead skin as awareness of religion it is defined by the words about the innocence of honest work.

At the same time, it is worth noting that the feeling of motherhood is socio-psychological along with other human needs (living, eating, etc.) is an equal property [3, 347]. In the author's story "Carpet Stocking", mother's almost barefoot, for the life of her child, for his health to give up health, if necessary, to face death instead it can be clearly seen from his readiness.

From a medical point of view, it is difficult there was a danger to the life of the mother and the child during pregnancy or childbirth in cases, almost all doctors give up the life of the child, the mother they decide to save. According to this logic, a mother can have another child, but the child cannot return the mother. But the logic of the author's story is nothing indicates that he is not superior to his mother's feelings.

In the story, the author's mother's qualities are how much she is on the path of life despite the fact that he has seen difficulties and overcome difficulties, he is like a child the reader's attention is attracted by the fact that he became an open and simple person.

The story "Debt" emphasizes this idea once again. Mother's own his love for his children, the whirlwind of war in their youth, poverty and one The fact that they lived here with difficulty for bread, their love for foreign children is even higher raised him to the rank. Clothes for neighbors' children from their allowance money, that the mother brought necessary things such as shoes and bicycles to her children as a result of not being able to deliver on time and not being able to share his love can be evaluated. Psychologically, a person has a certain life during his life it is inevitable to go through the stages, if it is on time from these stages if he cannot pass, he is forced to pass later [4, 122].

Like this measure of love, A mother's attention to her child is also valuable, if this love is human if it does not find its way from the heart and share it, it may turn into a dream in the future. In general, a person's life is only until he turns 3 years old Growing up inside the triangle (Mother-Child-Father), and then all others outside it is natural to be educated based on the influence of factors.(5). It can be seen from the story that the author is not far from this principle. His inner skills and other people despite the injustices he saw behind him (the story "Betrayal"), these are his people shows that it gradually changes to a negative side under the influence of society.

Utkir Khashimov was a Soviet-Uzbek writer. His childhood passed in difficult conditions of war and famine, despite having good performance, he had to work from an early age to help his family. While studying at the Faculty of Journalism of Tashkent State University, he also worked in Tashkent, Zheleznodorozhniki. After the University, he worked in the newspaper Evening Tashkent, he soon became the head of the department.(6). In 1982-1985, he was deputy chief editor of Gulyam. Since 1985 worked as the editor-in-chief of the magazine Utkir Khashimov was also a deputy of the Supreme Council of the Republic of Uzbekistan, chairman of the Committee of the Oliy Majlis of the Republic of Uzbekistan.

I think that in this world, we have to understand one thing. It is our parents who brought us into the world that made us out of nothing, and until we have reached this point, we have eaten, drank, and clothed ourselves, without saying hot or cold, without saying cold, for our own benefit. This article is based on the story "World Affairs" by Utkir Hoshimov(7). We can say that this work is about mothers, because the author emphasizes a lot about mothers in this work. As you read this, you feel as if things are happening in your past, and you read the book without being overwhelmed. There is a saying in this book that I want mothers all over the world to read this book. Through this sentence, it is clear that the work is about mothers all over the world.

This short story, written by the people's writer of Uzbekistan O'tkir Hoshimov, consists of big and small stories, was written for many years and was published in its entirety in 2005 by Sharq publishing house. This play is about mothers, and we can hear very warm opinions about it among our people. People's writer of Uzbekistan Said Ahmad described the short story as follows: "I would like to call the work "The affairs of the world" not a short story, but an epic. It reads like a song. While reading it, we think of our mothers. An idea, a question, that we have been able to pay off at least one of our eternal debts to these poor and stubborn mothers, is standing in front of our eyes(8). The story calls us to be honest, to appreciate and respect the person. dear person has the figure of my mother. I have seen all the people in this with my own eyes. Only the name has changed. The fate of these people is also similar to my mother in some respects. All mothers in the world are very similar to each other in relation to their children looks like.

So, this work is dedicated to you, dear Mothers! When you read these sentences, you will be sure that the writer's experiences and names have changed in the work. At the beginning of the work, the story "White, moonlit nights" is given, and in this story, when a mother and a child lie looking at the sky at night, it is admirable that through an ordinary star, a bigger star will become a bigger star for the mother and her child, and a smaller one for me. Because the mother does not spare her child even the food she eats. He is like a little star orphans, he simply says that orphans should be pitied. I think we all wish for a star to fly in the sky, but in the play it is said that another person's life was lost... if you pay attention.

CONCLUSION

As another important part of the "balance" (story) is a person it should be noted that it is a strong stimulus for education. The literary work is its own the ability of human thinking, sharply different from scientific material in its aspects development, aimed at stimulating his desire to "feel" life. In conclusion, it can be noted that humanity and education are promoted by the author and mother concepts are fully conveyed to the reader with this story.

In conclusion, I can say that no matter what we do, a person who displeases his parents will never achieve anything. We see this a lot in life and in books. In this work, we can draw many conclusions about valuing parents.
