In the conditions of the new Uzbekistan, special attention is paid to the issue of all-round development of young people, to reveal their full potential.

Today, about half of the total population living in the countries of Central Asia are young people. This important factor, on the one hand, indicates the urgency of measures to fully ensure the rights of this large number of disadvantaged people, and on the other hand, it means that it is of particular importance to direct the energy, knowledge and potential of the mature young generation to development, stability and creative activities.

The President of the Republic of Uzbekistan put forward a number of important initiatives at the 25th session of the General Assembly of the World Tourism Organization (WTO) held in Samarkand on October 16, 2023.

Among other things, the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan announced that special grants will be allocated for the training of specialists at the International Academy of Tourism, which has no parallel in the world (YuNWTO) for the training of personnel for the field of tourism and their qualification, which was recently opened in Samarkand. He also suggested holding the next World Youth Tourism Summit in Tashkent, which will become an important and useful space for youth tourism development projects and creation of new ideas.

It should be noted that more than 20 national, regional and international initiatives on youth issues are being promoted in our country in the following years. In particular, regional initiatives of the head of our state include:

- establishment of the youth council of the Central and South Asian countries, which works continuously in order to establish effective cooperation in youth issues;
- Holding the Central Asian Youth Forum in Uzbekistan;
- preparation of a multilateral agreement on the general directions of youth policy;

Preparation of the program of activities on the expansion of communication among young people on the topic "SCO - space for advanced ideas and future initiatives";

To establish regional grants and scholarships for talented young people in the field of science and education in the field of science and education in the name of great thinkers, scholars and philosophers who emerged from the land of Central Asia, such as Al-Khorazmi, Farobi, Jami, Makhtumquli, Chingiz Aitmatov;

- development of a regional comprehensive program on cooperation in the field of combating the radicalization of youth in order to protect the young generation from the influence of extremist ideas;

-Reviving the "Commonwealth Cup" football tournament and holding regular meetings between our youth teams in Uzbekistan;

- establishing the forum of young talents (Central Asia-China), etc.

Such projects and initiatives definitely serve to help young people find their place in society and increase their intellectual potential.

It should also be noted that in recent years, the issue of youth has been considered as the most important issue in our country, and systematic work is being carried out to bring out the talent of young people.

The social status, abilities and interests of young people aged 14 to 30 in our society were studied and divided into 3 categories. In this regard, 4.4 million young people who are studying well, have started their own business, work in the official sector, have abilities, and are socially active are included in the "good" category, and 4.6 million young people who could not find a job in the official sector due to living expenses, but are economically active, are included in the "middle" category. 396,000 young people who are waiting for the care and attention of the state and in need of assistance were divided into the "critical situation" category.

50 young people in need of attention in the third category were anonymously attached to each minister, deputy minister, regional, district and city mayors, sector heads, university rectors, commanders of the National Guard and military units, and work was started with them based on specific criteria.

Now, it was emphasized that ministries and agencies, local governments should focus on working with 4.6 million young people who belong to the "middle" category.

Working with young people is a matter of life and death. Therefore, in our country, special attention is paid to the education of young people. In today's dangerous times, it is necessary to protect our children from the influence of various foreign ideas, to take care of young people and show them the right way, without others taking over their thoughts.

The meeting on youth policy held under the chairmanship of our President was a big step towards returning all young people of Uzbekistan, including the inactive layer of youth, to the society.

The tasks set at the meeting place many responsibilities on the representatives of the youth in the neighborhood.

In particular, the most important task before us is to accelerate individual work with young people, to return young people who are separated from society, who do not find their place in life, who are influenced by foreign ideas, to an active life.

Based on the established directions, it is planned to organize special work with young people who are not provided with employment, who are waiting for the care and attention of the state, and who need help, to train them in professions and ensure their employment. Also, it is necessary to develop a new program for the organization of spiritual-educational and patriotic events and youth elections among the youth of the neighborhood.

So, by timely and quality performance of the tasks set before us in the youth issue, we will be able to demonstrate the effectiveness of the reforms in the life of every young person. In this way, it is achieved that young people feel the care provided by our state, the conditions created, and enter an active life.
